

The publishers of

THE ALL FREAK JOURNAL.

would like to remind you that

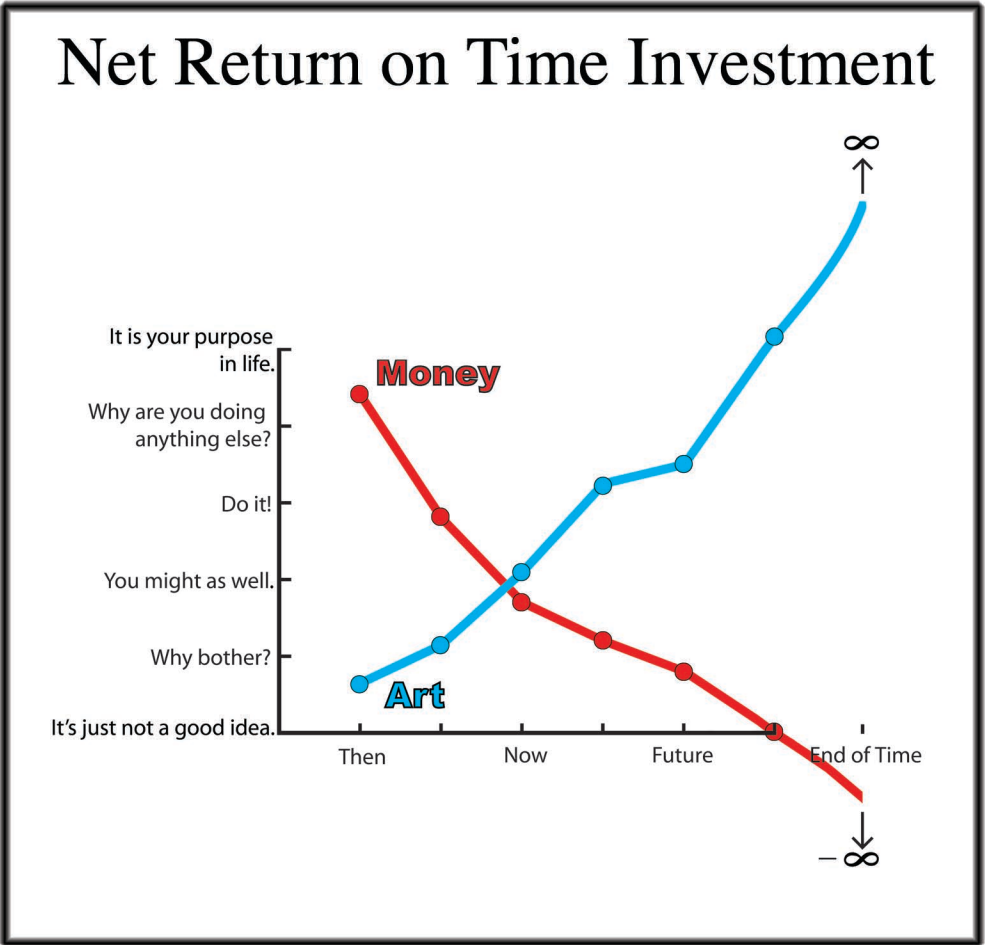

Time is art...

...Invest it wisely.

In today's turbulent market, it is more important than ever to make clear and informed choices about how to utilize one's resources.

While the pursuit of capital was, for much of the last century, a sound investment with a satisfactory rate of return, times have changed.

Given the instability of the U.S. dollar, the impending collapse of the petroleum economy and the growing importance of mutual fun, we at the All Freak Journal would suggest that your time might yield greater results through measured investments in art.

Then:

Now:

Creativity: An infinitely renewable resource

